

José A. Medina-Talavera

Doctor in Education, major in Instructional Technology and Distance Education from NOVA Southeastern University.

Director of doctoral research at Universidad Internacional Iberoamericana (FUNIBER/UNINI)

Principal Professor of the following graduate courses: Computer Tools for Project Management and Project Evaluation of the Master's Program in Design, Management and Direction of Projects from the Universidad Internacional Iberoamericana (FUNIBER/UNINI)

Member of the Advisor's Committee Advisor's for Curriculum Review of the Universidad Internacional Iberoamericana (FUNIBER/UNINI)

Adjunct Professor of 'Educational technology' at Broward International University.

Instructional designer and facilitator of the following courses: Virtual Education and Technology and Curriculum Design for the Virtual Education Master's program at Broward International University.

Worked for IBM Corporation from 1979 – 2010 Where he worked in Research & Development, Systems Engineer Sales and Consulting.

Director of an Associate Degree Program in Chemical Technology at Inter American University.