

Mehwish Ansari

Mehwish Ansari is a Digital Programme Officer at ARTICLE 19, an international human rights organization that protects and promotes the right to freedom of expression and information.

There, she leads engagement at the International telecommunication Union (ITU) to protect human rights in the development of transnational ICT infrastructure standards. As part of this portfolio, she has served as an advisor and lead negotiator on human rights issues for the United Kingdom and Europe.

Previously, Mehwish worked as part of both the Speech, Privacy & Technology Project and Human Rights Program at the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU). She holds an MSc in Global Governance and Diplomacy from the University of Oxford.